PETER BERLINER

Musician, song writer, composer, producer

---

During my „amateur years“, I played in lots of bands in Berlin (like „Medium“, „Scat“, „Mythos“, „Prolog“, ...). We all were great idealists with a lot of enthusiasm, but few performances - and of course not much money. The biggest problem for us were the instruments, which could only be obtained piece by piece at high costs and with foreign money (very risky!). Regularly we were thrown out of our rehearsal rooms because of too many decibels. Nevertheless, it was a great time and we had lots of fun.

But then it really started ...
